

Analyze Panel

This panel is used to get an overall picture of the chosen media's ability to be read by Data Rescue. Its use is optional, and not necessary to scan and recover files. However for users who suspect that their device may be experiencing hardware problems, this function can give a high-level view of any read problems. It does this by sampling the media throughout its length, and keeping track of where the disk is having problems reading

[This help file is not currently used.]