System requirements

Operating System:

Windows® 95, 98, Me, NT 4.0, 2000, XP

For users of Windows® NT we recommend Service Pack 3 or later.

As a user of Windows® NT, 2000 or XP you have to be logged in with full administration rights.

Computer:

Any computer that runs one of the above operating systems at a reasonable speed.

RAM and disk space:

Ca. 2MB for the program files, additional space for temporary files while encrypting, which means approximately the space of the files to encrypt.

About this program

Neither the program Ashampoo Privacy Protector nor the company ashampoo GmbH & Co. KG stores any kind of administration password. If you loose your password, your encrypted files can't be decrypted anymore. So please do care!

No program window is opened when I start the program!

This is normal. In standard mode Ashampoo Privacy Protector is a background program that is accessible through popup menus in the Windows Explorer and the taskbar. There are two ways to access program functions after you start Ashampoo Privacy Protector.

1. Right-click on files or folders you want to encrypt in the Windows Explorer and select the Ashampoo Privacy Protector functions from the popup menu.

2. Click on the red Ashampoo Privacy Protector icon in the system tray (at the right-hand end of the taskbar at the bottom of the Windows screen).
