

Plasma

Copyright © 1998 Jens Granseuer

|                      |
|----------------------|
| COLLABORATORS |
|----------------------|

|               |                          |                  |                  |
|---------------|--------------------------|------------------|------------------|
|               | TITLE :Plasma |                  |                  |
| ACTION | NAME              | DATE      | SIGNATURE |
| WRITTEN BY    |                          | January 19, 2025 |                  |

|                         |
|-------------------------|
| REVISION HISTORY |
|-------------------------|

| NUMBER | DATE | DESCRIPTION | NAME |
|--------|------|-------------|------|
|        |      |             |      |

Contents

|          |                   |          |
|----------|-------------------|----------|
| 1 | Plasma     | 1 |
| 1.1      | Plasma! . . . . . | 1        |

Chapter 1

Plasma

1.1 Plasma!

Plasma!
a TaskForce scenario by Jens Granseuer

Difficulty: Hard

The Plot

>>> Incoming Message <<<

One of the allies of the Syndicate allegedly discovered a substance that can be used to develop some kind of plasma gun. As you can imagine this situation is not tolerable. Such a weapon in the hands of the enemy might cause some problems you wouldn't want to face.

Therefore the only solution is to prevent them from completing their research. I've got the confidential information that the only existing sample of this substance is currently stored in one of the Syndicate's research facilities. Incredibly, it seems like the formula can be found in the complex, too.

Your job will be to get into the research center, find the substance, blow it up, and return the formula to the rendezvous next to the sentry north of the building.

My sources claim that it's virtually impossible to reach the sample. Don't believe them. I have taken care to cover all probabilities. If everything else fails you can still find... <crackle>
>>> Communication Terminated <<<