- MacPattern was written using Symantec's excellent Think C compiler.
- Resources were constructed with Apple's ResEdit resource editor.
- Documentation was written using M. Wall's DocMaker program.
- MacPattern's Help system is built on J. Pillera's MTH routines (MacTutor, January 1990, 8-22).
- Thanks to everybody who commented on MacPattern and thus helped to improve this program. Many thanks also to those who volunteered to test various beta versions.
- Of course, thanks to A. Bairoch for PROSITE and S. Henikoff for BLOCKS. I am indebted to both for their helpful comments.
