

When You Have a Question

Note: Support for the Visual Basic 5.0 Control Creation Edition Beta-1 is not available through Microsoft. Peer-to-peer public support is available for the Visual Basic 5.0 Control Creation Edition Beta in the microsoft.public.vb.controls.creation newsgroup. In this newsgroup you can interact with other users of the Visual Basic 5.0 Control Creation Edition Beta. You can use any newsreader software to access this newsgroup. However, you will need to configure your news client to look at the Microsoft news server. The Microsoft news server name is msnews.microsoft.com.

If you have a question about Visual Basic, first look in the product documentation or consult online Help. You can also find late-breaking updates and technical information in the README file that came with your Visual Basic disks or cd's. If you cannot find the answer, contact Microsoft Product Support Services.

Outside the United States and Canada, contact Microsoft Product Support Services at the Microsoft subsidiary office that serves your area. For information about Microsoft subsidiary offices, see Product Support Worldwide.

Microsoft AnswerPoint

Information Services

Microsoft provides an unprecedented number of no-charge or low-cost support tools and support services 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Many of the following support options make reference to three robust, self-help tools; the Microsoft Knowledge Base, the Microsoft Software Library, and Frequently Asked Questions. Below is a brief description of these tools:

Microsoft Knowledge Base: Microsoft Knowledge Base is the same database that Microsoft support engineers use to provide you with answers to common questions. It is a comprehensive collection of more than 50,000 detailed articles with technical information about Microsoft products, bug and fix lists, and documentation errors. Regular browsing through the Microsoft Knowledge Base will keep you up to date on the technical issues that affect the software and hardware configurations you use.

Microsoft Software Library: The Microsoft Software Library contains hundreds of free software add-ons, bug fixes, peripheral drivers, software updates, and programming aids for easy downloading at your convenience.

Frequently Asked Questions: Use the Microsoft FAQs to find "the right answers, right now". Here you will find quick answers to the most common technical issues on using your favorite Microsoft product.

Microsoft FastTips

(800) 936-4300 on a touch-tone telephone. Receive automated answers to common technical problems, and access popular articles from the Microsoft Knowledge Base, all delivered by recording or fax. You can use the following keys on your touch-tone telephone after you reach FastTips:

Microsoft Download Service

Access, via modem, sample programs, device drivers, patches, software updates and programming aides (1200, 2400, or 9600 baud; no parity; 8 data bits; 1 stop bit). In the United States, call (206) 936-6735. In Canada, call (905) 507-3022.

Internet

Microsoft's Internet services are enormously popular. More than 750,000 of our customers access the Microsoft Knowledge Base or Microsoft Software Library each week by using Internet services. We also have additional Microsoft information such as resource kits, white papers, and the latest information about Microsoft products. It's easy to search through these technical sources to find what you need.

If you're an Internet user, you can access this information for no charge (connect charges may apply) at the following locations:

The Microsoft World Wide Web support site is located at <http://www.microsoft.com/support/>. This site contains the Microsoft Frequently Asked Questions, the Microsoft Knowledge Base, the Microsoft Software Library, password-protected areas for support contract holders and support partners, various white papers, and other Microsoft product and service information.

The Microsoft FTP site, located at <ftp.microsoft.com>, is a repository for the Microsoft Software Library, the Microsoft Knowledge Base, resource kit utility files, and other Microsoft product information files.

The Microsoft Network and Other Online Services

You can access the 50,000-plus Microsoft Knowledge Base articles and the Microsoft Software Library files through The Microsoft Network and other online services. Additional services, such as the Microsoft Frequently Asked Questions and World Wide Web links, are available on The Microsoft

Network.

To access Microsoft support services on The Microsoft Network, type GO MSSUPPORT (to view a wide range of Microsoft support options).

Microsoft AnswerPoint Standard support provides no-charge support from Microsoft support engineers via a toll call between 6:00 A.M. and 6:00 P.M. Pacific time, Monday through Friday, excluding holidays. In Canada, support engineers are available via a toll call between 8:00 A.M. and 8:00 P.M. Eastern time, Monday through Friday, excluding holidays. Every Microsoft development tools product includes 2 no-charge support incidents that may be used for the current version of the product.

- In the United States, for technical support for Microsoft Visual Basic, call (206) 646-5105.
- In Canada, for technical support for Microsoft Visual Basic, call (905) 568-3503.

When you call, you should be at your computer and have the appropriate product documentation at hand. Be prepared to give the following information:

- The product id number of the Microsoft product that you are using
- The type of hardware that you are using
- The exact wording of any messages that appeared on your screen
- A description of what happened and what you were doing when the problem occurred
- A description of how you tried to solve the problem

An incident is defined as a single support issue and the reasonable effort needed to resolve it. A single support issue is a problem that cannot be broken down into subordinate problems. If a problem consists of subordinate problems, each shall be considered a separate incident. Before Microsoft provides support for an incident, you and Microsoft's designated support engineer must agree on what the problem is and the parameters for an acceptable solution. An incident may require multiple telephone calls and offline research to resolve it. A Microsoft product bug is not considered a fee-based incident.

Microsoft Authorized Support Centers

Microsoft Authorized Support Centers (ASCs) are a select group of strategic support providers who offer high quality customized support services that span the complete systems life cycle of planning, building, and managing your multivendor environment. Services include: on-site support, integration and implementation services, help desk services, hardware support, development resources, and others. Choosing an ASC allows you to work with one vendor for all of your technical support and service needs. You can also combine ASC services with your in-house help desk or Microsoft support service option to best fit your information technology support needs.

For more information on the ASC program, in the U.S. call (800) 636-7544 between 6:00 A.M. and 6:00 P.M. Pacific time, Monday through Friday, excluding holidays. In Canada, call (800) 563-9048 between 8:00 A.M. and 8:00 P.M. Eastern time, Monday through Friday, excluding holidays.

Microsoft Solution Providers Program

Microsoft Solution Providers are independent developers, consultants, and systems analysts that offer fee-based technical training and support, industry knowledge, objective advice, and a range of value-added services to companies of all sizes. Solution Providers work with organizations to help implement computing systems that take advantage of today's powerful new technologies.

For the name of a Microsoft Solution Provider near you, in the U.S. call (800) 426-9400 between 6:30 A.M. and 5:30 P.M. Pacific time, Monday through Friday, excluding holidays. In Canada, call (800) 563-9048 between 8:00 A.M. and 8:00 P.M. Eastern time, Monday through Friday, excluding holidays.

Microsoft Developer Network

The Microsoft Developer Network (MSDN) is the comprehensive Microsoft resource for developers. MSND is an annual membership program for developers of Windows-based applications. Depending on your development needs, you can join one of two levels of annual membership. Level 1 delivers the latest development-related information via four quarterly updates of the Development Library CD-ROM and six bi-monthly issues of the Developer Network News newspaper. Level 2 includes all Level 1 benefits plus API-level SDKs, DDKs, and operating systems via quarterly updates of the Development Platform CD-ROMs.

To join the Microsoft Developer Network in the U.S. and Canada, call (800) 759-5474, dept. #1183, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, excluding holidays.

If you are outside the United States and have a question about a Microsoft product, first:

- Consult the documentation and other printed information included with your product.
- Check Books Online.
- Check the README files that come with your product disks. These files provide general information that became available after the books in the product package were published.
- Consult electronic options such as the Microsoft Network forums or bulletin boards, if available.

If you cannot find a solution, you can receive information on how to obtain product support by contacting the Microsoft subsidiary office that serves your country.

Microsoft AnswerPoint

Microsoft AnswerPoint, where available, offers high-quality technical support options that allow you to get what you need: the right answers right now.

Microsoft AnswerPoint is subject to Microsoft's then-current prices, terms, and conditions in place in each country at the time the services are used and is subject to change without notice.

Calling a Microsoft Subsidiary Office

When you call, you should be at your computer and have the appropriate product documentation at hand. Be prepared to give the following information:

- The version number of Microsoft product that you are using.
- The type of hardware that you are using, including network hardware, if applicable.
- The operating system that you are using.
- The exact wording of any messages that appeared on your screen.
- A description of what happened and what you were doing when the problem occurred.
- A description of how you tried to solve the problem.

Microsoft subsidiary offices and the countries they serve are listed below.

If there is no Microsoft office in your country, please contact the establishment from which you purchased your Microsoft product.
