

Apple Ink-Jet and Dot-Matrix Printer Supplies

To ensure that your Apple ink-jet printer delivers the highest-possible print quality for a wide variety of documents—and to protect your investment—choose genuine Apple printer supplies.

Printing used to be as simple as—well—black and white. But today, you can use your Apple ink-jet printer for everything from professional business documents to creative personal projects. Best of all, it's easy to achieve optimal print quality. Just choose the right supplies: genuine high-quality ink cartridges and ink-jet papers and film from Apple. Apple supplies are specially formulated to enhance your printer's output. So whether your next print project is a detailed market analysis or a colorful school project, using printer supplies from Apple will ensure that your work will appear in the best possible light. It makes sense: To get the best out of your Apple printer, put the best inside—genuine Apple printer supplies.

Ink cartridges

The ink cartridge in your Apple printer is an integral part of a complete printing system whose performance depends on a precisely engineered relationship between the print head, the printer engine, and the printer software. Ink cartridges from Apple are designed to optimize this advanced system.

With genuine Apple ink cartridges, you can count on the high-quality printed results that you've come to expect: deep true blacks and rich, accurate colors. These ink cartridges work with your printer to deliver exceptional performance and years of superior service.

Ink-jet papers and film

Apple's high-quality ink-jet papers and film are specially created to produce breathtaking results with Apple ink-jet printers. Offerings include coated and glossy paper stocks, as well as transparency film—which makes using your ink-jet printer to produce brilliant overheads a quick and easy process. And for projects of a more personal nature—such as birthdays or anniversaries—as well as simply to help you stay in touch with colleagues, friends, and family, Apple offers a greeting card kit. There's even special banner paper for use with the Color StyleWriter 4500, which lets you get your message across loud and clear. It's great for family and school events, as well as countless other occasions.

Photorealistic quality: The state of the art in color images

Considering that Apple ink-jet printers use high-quality inks and support seamless integration of Apple's unique ColorSync technology—which provides the best possible color match between printed output and what you see on the screen—it should come as no surprise that they provide superior color performance. And two Apple ink-jet printers—the Color StyleWriter 2500 and 4500—offer true photo-realistic color performance. By using Apple PhotoGrade ink cartridges and papers, you can take advantage of these printers' advanced capabilities to create vivid photorealistic images, for maximum impact.
