

"Look, mommy, a gorilla!" the little girl screamed. Kate thought, for the hundredth time, that seemed a very stupid thing to say. She had been working at the zoo for over 5 years, and all children seemed to say the same thing. She stopped looking out the window from the cage and went to the back. The intercom was located back there, and she picked it up. "Attention please. The zoo is closing now for the day. Please exit as soon as possible, as the animals want to get some sleep." She heard a small burst of laughter from outside, as she always did. As she put the mike down, Steve came in.

"Hey, you going out with everyone else tonight?" He asked.

"Oh, I don't think so. Mr. Myers said there were some problems in Sarki's room, and he wanted me to check it out."

"Shit. I wouldn't go in there. That it was one big ape!" He said.

"Well, he seems to like me. But anyway, I guess the lights are acting he wanted me to take a look at them."

He grinned. "Well, don't let me keep you. Maybe sometime next week?" He asked.

"Sure. next week it is." She smiled back at him. He waved goodbye, and Kate got back to her work.

After taking her normal hour or two to get everything back in order, she went to her locker in the ladies room to get out of her zoo uniform. After she got it all off, she remembered she had to fix those lights, but since the zoo was closed, she didn't think anyone would mind if she did it in shorts and a tee-shirt. She left her junk in the bathroom and headed for the gorilla house. After arriving there she entered Sarki's room, wondering why Mr. Myers seemed to think she was a mechanic or an electrician. Sarki was a huge mountain gorilla, and usually not very amicable. But he had seemed to take to Kate immediately, usually hanging over her shoulder or something whenever she was in his cage. Today was no exception, as she climbed up toward the ceiling to get at the lights. There was a large platform near the ceiling and she got on that in order to inspect the lights better.

Sarki pulled his bulk right up next to her, but there was plenty of room up there. She stood up and craned her neck, trying to look straight up while keeping her balance. Suddenly, she felt a large hand on her ass, slowly stroking it. She turned around quickly, and found Sarki staring at her as his hand caressed her. She stood frozen, afraid that he might push her off the ledge or something. But what he actually did was bring his other hand up and began to feel her breasts through her shirt. Now, Kate never thought of herself as overly kinky, but this monkey was really turning her on!. She slowly removed her shirt and bra, letting the huge gorilla to feel her bare chest. He began squeezing her boobs, massaging them, while his other hand still wandered in her waist region. After a few minutes of this treatment, she couldn't stand it any more. She removed her shoes, then her jeans, and finally her panties. Sarki sat down and pulled her over to him.

His hands still were exploring her body, and suddenly she felt one of his fingers stab up into her now-exposed hole. His finger, though not as long as a man's penis, was just as wide and she began to squirm on it. His other hand fell from her breasts and curled around her as, pulling her closer. He brought his face close to her and stared at her with great interest. His hand was still working her over, but she wanted more. She knew gorilla's would imitate a lot of things if they were done by a human, so she decided to test exactly what he would do. She moved down him until her face was right next to his chest. Her tongue tentatively darted out and began to kiss his leather-like chest.

She moved downward, further, until his now-erect huge cock was staring right at her. All thoughts of anything else quickly flew away with the sight of it, and she immediately took it in her mouth, taking great pleasure from his obvious excitement. His cock grew to unbelievable size she could barely keep it in her mouth. She could taste the few drops of Cum that were seeping out of his now rock hard cock. Then she pulled away, spread her legs, with the finger still in her, and hoped. He withdrew his finger and pressed his face against her chest, his tongue coming out and licking her nipples. He, too, moved downward and slurped at her wet hole. She groaned louder and louder, and just as she was about to orgasm, he roughly pushed her away. She landed on her stomach, and as she began to pick her self up, confused, she felt a huge cock fill her box. Sarki's breath came in rough gasps as he shoved his tool deeper and deeper into her. She began to groan even louder, and his pace quickened. After a few minues of this, Kate couldn't hold back any longer. Her cunt exploded in a series of orgasms around his spike.

She bucked her hips upwards against his huge body, and with her contractions came a jerking from deep within him, and after a second or two she could feel his Cummm filling her. He slowly stopped his rammings, and allowed her to climb out from under him. She realized that he had supported himself on his knuckles the entire time to avoid crushing her. She got dressed, but before she left she taught him one more thing. Reaching forward, she opened his mouth a bit, and brought her lips to his. She slipped her tongue into his surprised mouth, but he soon realized what she was doing and also put his tongue in her mouth. After a small amount of fumbling, she felt as if she was kissing a real man, as he go the movements down right. She slipped her hand down to his limp dick and gave it a smll squeeze, a promise that she would work late again soon. And it looked like she wasn't going out with Steve and her co-workers next week after all!
