Type I migration

This shows Type I migration, from a viewpoint that is fixed with respect to the planet (adopted for all the remaining simulations). Note that no gap opens in the disc (except the beginnings of a gap towards the end of the simulation). Note also how far the planet migrates after just 192 orbits.