

Bug Reports

If you find Bugs (and you probably will), please email me a note describing the problem and if it's data dependent, a copy of the data. You can use the menu panel Suggestion under Info to bring up a preaddressed mail message to me.

Briefly describe the bug and include your operating system version, machine and whether you have a color monitor or not.

After some initial debugging and improvements, I'll put the source out for everyone to criticize and laugh at. I'm somewhat proud of it though. I managed to finally get it doing what I wanted.
