

I'm leaving my current job as of 08/16/94. I'll be doing freelance (heavy on the free unless I get some offers) programming for the next 9 months after that. At that point I'll be returning to the states from England and will be looking for a full-time job.

If I have free time (which it looks like I will), I plan to do more 'put a GUI over some dumb unix text file' type stuff. The next big plan is to do a GUI over remind.

Resume available on request.
