StartupSound is a small program that play a sound file called Startup.snd when it launches, and quit itself automatically after it finished playing. It will search for the following paths to look for the Startup.snd sound file:

~/Library/Sounds
/LocalLibrary/Sounds
/NextLibrary/Sounds

Place it in your dock and set it to autolaunch. Every time you login, you'll hear your favorite piece of music, or speech coming out from your NeXT.

You may freely distribute and/or modify this program.

If you like it, or come up with a better version, drop me a note on
