

Help Panel

The Help Panel provides access to on-line documentation. The Help Panel can be brought up directly by choosing Help in the Info Menu. It displays a list of available topics and a scrolling text area for viewing the selected topic.

Help is also available by Control-clicking on an object in the interface. This will cause the Help Panel to appear with information for the selected object. This is useful, for example, when being presented with an unfamiliar Panel. Control-click on the Panel to read instructions on using it.
