Any user is welcome to pester me about anything they like. In particular, if you find any bugs, would like to see a new feature, would like me to start a new project of some sort, or just want to chat, let me know. E-mail is definitely the most reliable way to reach me.

If you want more than the simple support I offer via e-mail (which is pretty good, considering it's free), you can feel free to hire me as a consultant±the fees are reasonable, I promise.
