Local Government Review & County Boundaries

With effect from the 1st of April 1996 some counties cease to exist. The Runner will be updated as the position becomes clear.

Avon ceases to exist. Areas north of Bristol become part of Gloucestershire. Area south of Bristol, part of Somerset.

Cleveland ceases to exist. Areas north of the River Tees become part of County Durham. Areas south of the River Tees, part of North Yorkshire.

Hereford & Worcester ceases to be a linked county. The pre-1974 county boundaries are to be reinstated during 1998.

Humberside ceases to exist. Areas north of the River Humber become East Riding of Yorkshire. Areas south of the River Humber, become part of Lincolnshire.

Rutland will cease to be part of Leicestershire. The pre-1974 county boundary will be reinstated during 1997.

NB. The Royal Mail no longer use counties as part of their sort method. Mailers should ensure that all correspondence states Town & Postcode.
