Moonrise

Thank you for trying Moonrise. This is a very simple to use, yet very accurate program. It is designed to run on Windows 95 or Windows NT 3.51 or later. If you put it in your Startup folder, it will greet you everyday with the day's sunrise, sunset, moonrise, moonset, and twilight times. You can easily find the next moon phases, and see an icon showing the approximate current phase. You can find the same information for tomorrow, next week, forty years from now, or the day you were born with a click or two of the mouse.

System Requirements

Microsoft Windows 95 or Windows NT 3.51 or later
80386 or higher
4 MB RAM
Disk space will vary depending on whether you already have the Visual Basic 4.0 runtime files installed.

Installation

Unzip the file Moonrise.zip into a temporary directory. Run Setup.exe by double clicking it in Explorer, opening it in Run on the Start menu, or installing it from Add-Remove Programs in Control Panel. Follow the Setup instructions. Remember to delete the temporary directory when you are done.

Removal

Moonrise can be removed completely with Add-Remove Programs in Control Panel.

Registration

Moonrise is shareware. You may try it free for thirty days. If you continue using it after thirty days, you are expected to register. To register, send $16.00 to:
