Specifying the number of simulation runs

In the "# Main simul. runs" field you specify how many simulation runs you would like to perform.

In our example we leave all nodes checked, and enter 500 into the "# Main simul. runs" field. In most cases you should consider increasing this number to at least 2000 to obtain stable results.