One approach to learning DynRisk modeling, is to focus on the different types of objects, and how they play together in a model. In this section we will cover the following objects:

- Nodes

- Edges

- Aliases

- Folders

- Events

- Data nodes

- References

as well as some other less important objects. In particular we will explain how to edit properties or attributes of these objects.