

DynLP events

DynLP events are used to link to objects in DynLP documents. DynLP is an application for doing linear programming. By using DynLP events you can incorporate linear programming in your models.

More specifically you can feed node values from DynRisk over to e.g., the constraint fields in a linear programming model. Then when all the constraints are updated, you can solve the resulting LP problem, and finally get the optimal solution back to your DynRisk model.