Including data nodes in models

By using DynRisk events, you can resample the results from a data node, and include this in a model.

To do this, you create a DynRisk event by using the "DynRisk™" command in the "New event" submenu of the "Model" menu.