

System Requirements

Black Night prefers System Software Version 7.5.1, however I've also successfully tested it on System Software Versions 7.0.1*, 6.0.7, 6.0.4, 6.0.3 and 4.3 (although some of the advanced features are not available on the earlier versions).

To use "plug-in" connection, terminal and file transfer tools, you need the Communication Tool Box which is built into System Software Version 7.0.0 and onwards, and can be installed into System Software Version 6.0.4 and onwards. However, Black Night's built-in tools are always available.

Most of the verification was done on a Macintosh Quadra 700 and a Macintosh SE, although Black Night has been extensively beta tested on a much wider range of machines.

Black Night will also run on the PowerMac Computers, but only in emulation mode. I'm planning to port the code to native PowerPC code as soon as the PowerPC Object Pascal Compilers become a little more stable.