

Temporary #1.

A period of new beginnings, new cycles, personal decisions, redefinitions, changes, individualism. Feeling alone even in a crowd.

A time to think and concentrate on what happens next. New goals, careers, loves, moves, etc. may be at issue.

Decisions made now will determine much of the future. A time of self-reliance, high energy, winning, gaining, pioneering, asserting. New friends should be chosen carefully.

Avoid dependencies. Be careful not to hurt others with the excess energy. Make it clear where you stand. Isolation is temporary but positive and necessary. Focus the will. Separate personal values from inherited values.

A time to begin new projects.*

Temporary #2.

A period of cooperation, waiting, patience, calm, passiveness, balance, discrimination, thinking of and listening to others, taking stock, settling in, paying attention to one's unconscious.

Not a good time to make decisions, take a stand, argue or confront problems or people. If chaos threatens it is better to wait it out than to jump in. Turn the other cheek, react wisely. Don't stoop to the level of those who attack. (Cool justice is best.)

A time to mediate and arbitrate, to see all sides of any issue, to find an alternative when conflict threatens. A period of quiet inspiration and creativity. Vacillation and indecision may occur. Wait it out. Strong bonds may be formed now.

A period of nurturing seeds already sown.*

Temporary #3.

A period of expansion, new experiences, good fortune, movement, broadened geographical and mental horizons, sensitivity, feeling. A time to make one's self heard. People will listen, take note, want to hear more. Social engagements, new popularity, new respect, center of much attention.

Appearance becomes more important--new clothes, attractive image cultivated. New eloquence desired and achieved. New enthusiasms and interests. Positive, optimistic attitudes attract others. A lucky period. Social life merges with business.

Watch out for extravagance, extremes of emotions, overindulgence, being carried away--heavy losses possible through squandering and spreading energies too thin.*

Temporary #4.

A period of organizing and reorganizing, laying foundations, building, putting things in order saving. Major house-cleaning or move is possible. Economical budgeting is important as is careful handling of money. Fitness and better health become new concerns. Physical juices flow strongly--sexual drive, sports, physical labor, etc. Children may enter the scene or re-emerge as an important element.

Worldly success, law and order. New insights into life.

Guard against stubbornness, over-extension, debt, temptation, testing.*

Temporary #5.

A period of change, hectic activity, demands from others, many things needing attention all at the same time. Meeting many people, much communication, many experiences, confusion, but all necessary to form an array from which to make eventual, inevitable decisions. Turning point in life, restlessness, new paths and answers appear, much curiosity and living, cramming many experiences into short periods, new interests, new admirers, popularity, social invitations.

A time to be careful, conserve energies, resist temptation, govern emotions, try to move at a sane pace.

Avoid overindulgence, liquor, drugs, flirtations, dallying, teasing.*

Temporary #6.

A period of activity revolving around the home, relatives, places where there are roots and ties. New bonds may be formed-- finding a mate, marriage, firming up a relationship. Children may enter the scene. Old bonds may be tested, support demanded, help needed. The home and work environments may need improvement, beautifying, sprucing up. Health and physical condition may require improvement as well. Others may seek advice, counsel, sympathy, help.

A period of resolution, balancing--reconciliations or partings of the way. Incompatibilities sort themselves out one way or another, either cleanly and efficiently or with much struggle and emotional warfare.*

Temporary #7.

A period of rest, rehabilitation, retreat, meditation, contemplation, being alone and out of circulation or with others like-minded. A time for studying writing, either for one's self or for others--diaries, letters, poetry, etc. Slowing down the pace, catching breath, refueling depleted reservoirs. If too much activity persists then illness may force a rest.

Dreams, fantasies, imaginings are more frequent. Internal activity becomes more important than the external.

When actions and decisions are necessary then proceed slowly and deliberately. Demand satisfaction, even perfection, or don't act. Escape from chaos, attend to the inner self.*

Temporary #8.

A period of reaping what was sown, receiving what is due. Either rewards or losses. Inheritances, prizes, awards, promotions, advancements, honors or setbacks, firings, demotions, censure, ridicule, bankruptcy.

Responsibilities, pressures increase. Money becomes a greater issue--more of it or less.

A time of needing the opposite sex, being part of a balanced unity, one half of a pair, giving and receiving strength, pleasure, support. Spiritual as well as physical bonding is needed. Mutual dependency.

A period of either power or impotence, winning or losing, victory or defeat, gaining or slipping behind, freedom or restriction--extremes. Much balance is required if fluctuations between opposites occur frequently.*

Temporary #9.

A period of releasing, cleansing, ending a phase or era, sorting through and getting rid of what is useless. A time for major moves, upsetting the established scheme of things, changing direction, saying good-bye, closing one door before opening another. The past must be dealt with before the future can be met. Much testing by others.

A time for settling accounts, paying dues, returning favors, sharing what has been gained, giving, teaching, helping, working for a better human condition, compassion, empathy, charity. Join with others to achieve something together on a wide plane.

Goals have been met. Reflect on what has occurred in order to do better the next time around the cycle. If little has been learned then much trouble awaits.*

Temporary #11.

A period of the unexpected, surprises, decisions which require immediate action. A time to balance much-desired harmony against the potential consequences of any actions. Possible legal/financial decisions--law suits, settlements, contracts, wills, inheritances--may solve many problems, bring harmony.

A period of insight, intuition, brainstorming, instant realizations and solutions, sudden inspiration and resulting creativity. Possible recognition for some achievement, notice, fame, limelight. Not only fast but balanced and wise thinking required.

A charged and exciting period involving higher, universal realities.*

Temporary #22.

A period of energy, thinking big, much strength in the physical world. The power to achieve much, make great strides, go far. Leadership, travel, new position. Perhaps some loneliness but necessary for reflection on what to do with the new energy and opportunity, how to handle things.

A time for daring, bold moves balanced with good sense and economy. Great responsibilities and worries but also a wealth of confidence, physical endurance, concentration and accurate intuition, insight beyond the usual.

Invincibility if powers are trusted, but, if not trusted, then all this energy may become misdirected--with terrible results. If not enough consideration for others has been shown or wise reflection done then irrevocable damage may ensue.*