

-

his application is to be distributed freely. All information in this applicaiton is not guaranteed, you may use it at your own risk (just a disclaimer to save my butt!).

If you really have the need to give money away because you were impressed by this application, thank Apple Computer by BUYING ANOTHER MACINTOSH - - - DEATH TO WINDOWS!

.....
This list was compiled from various sources. The first and formost credit goes to Dr. Pete Corless, who was responsible for one of the latest and most comprehensive versions of System Errors 7.01. His data came from the following sources: Inside Macintosh Volume VI (c) Addison-Wesley 1991 Additional credit goes to Apple Computer and it's MacCheck Utility. Other help and comments from Ron Yochum <ronphlf@aol.com> Last change - Version 7.5.a - Thursday, May 11, 1995
.....

Why did I bother to make this???

In attempting to set up my file server on my Centris 610, I kept getting a stupid sad mac with the wierd little sound that it makes. I thought "oh god, not the mother board", which would have cost more than the machine. Well, I went to another machine and checked a program called "System Error's 7.01" by Pete Corless of Apple to see if there was an explanation. Unfortunately this great program did not have the info that I needed. So I looked and found a neet little program called MacCheck. I looked inside and found a list of error codes for a "Sad Mac". I found out that it was only corrupted software (whew!). Anyway, I attempted to print out this neet little list. But unfortunately, there is no way to do it. So, what I did was copied all the info out and typed it in here so that everyone has access to it. I hope that it is useful. In addition , I have added a few other pointers that may help.