Overview:
IdentaFone, in conjunction with Caller ID/Call Display service from your phone company, will log incoming calls and perform database lookups to place complete caller information at your fingertips before the phone has rang twice. You can configure it to show a large barker screen that can be seen across the room or you can just have the icon display the calling number. Includes a Speed Dialer for 32 of your favourite numbers, dialer from the database or return call dialer in log window. You can launch a program or window macro when a designated number calls. NEW ... if you have a numeric pager IdentaFone will send the calling party's number to your pager.

Legal Stuff:
The Author disclaim all warranties expressed or implied, including, without limitation the warranty of fitness for any purpose. The author assumes no liability for damages, direct or consequential, which may result from the use of IdentaFone. IdentaFone is copyright protected by Maurice Dykes.

IdentaFone is distributed as Shareware meaning that you can try it out before deciding to buy. It is not public domain. You are granted a limited license to use IdentaFone on a trial basis.
