

NoteZ

NoteZ is a variant of the Post-It idea for Windows. It provides the usual pop up notes on the desktop, but also a diary and a calendar for reviewing appointments and reminders. Notes are organised into folders and can be sorted and searched, so they can be used as a simple flat file database.

Info on using NoteZ is provided in the help file. This file is just to describe how to get NoteZ started. NoteZ is available for Windows 3.1 and Windows NT, but it will not run under Windows 3.0 or earlier.

Installation

Move notez3.zip to the directory where you want NoteZ to reside, and unzip it by typing:

```
pkunzip notez3
```

This should produce the files

```
README.WRI (this file)
UNZIP.BAT
NOTEZ.ZIP
```

If you are reading this you have presumably already completed this initial unzipping. Now complete the installation by typing

unzip
```

to run UNZIP.BAT. This will produce the files

```
NOTEZ.EXE
NOTEZ.HLP
```

and the directories (these are example folders)

```
DIARY
RECIPES

If you want to create an icon for NoteZ in Program Manager use the New command from the Program Manager File menu.

NB NoteZ is fussy about the location of the subdirectories containing folder data. Well actually it doesn't matter where the sub-directories are as long as NoteZ knows where they are. The easiest way to avoid hassle is to move the notez3.zip file to the directory where you want NoteZ installed, unzip it there, and then don't move the file notez.exe or any of the NoteZ sub-directories. If you later want to move things around see the section on moving folders in the help file.

Changes

v3.21

This is a small upgrade. I have made the format of dates more flexible to fit on small notes and finally made it possible to to open a note by selecting that note and hitting return. There are one or two other cosmetic changes of no consequence.

Registration

NoteZ version 3.0 is shareware; the registration fee is ten pounds sterling. No-one will hassle for registration, and I won't be losing any sleep worrying whether you've registered or not, but registering will give you a nice warm feeling (and me ten pounds :-)

I cannot take credit cards, but cheques or indeed cash are welcome and should be sent to:
