B. This application best fits in the mathematics category.

C. This application is designed to help students visualize the relationship between cosine, sine and tangent curves to a unit circle. The user controls the angle of an arc on a unit circle. The vertical and horizontal components of the angle are displayed on a sine and cosine curve and the ratio of these two components is displayed on a tangent curve.

- D. This application is used as part of the Integrated First Year Curriculum in calculus classes.
- E. This application was developed under NeXTSTEP 2.1.
- F. This application requires no special installation.
- G. The Documentation folder included with the application is required for online documentation built into the application. If it is removed, the application will still function properly, except for Help.
