

New Distribution Partners Expand Service Coverage

NeXT is selectively developing a new distribution channel of NeXT Authorized Dealers. Many of these new resellers are securing authorization to service NeXT products and building a NeXT service business. As a result, customers can choose from an increasing number of Authorized Service Centers across the United States and Canada.

Customers now have easier, more flexible access to service. Customers who purchase a NeXT product from one dealer can request service under NeXT's limited warranty at other dealer locations, as long as the dealer has been certified as a NeXT Authorized Service Provider.
