

.CA Canadian Presence Requirements: Understanding Legal Types for Registrants

A business, organization or person wishing to register a .CA domain name must meet the Canadian Presence Requirements and select a Legal Type. A Legal Type is a category that a Registrant must fall into in order to meet the Canadian Presence Requirements. Below are the Legal Types for a Registrant that has an individual account and for a Registrant that has a business or organization account. Registrants with a business or organization account may not select from the categories listed for an individual account and visa versa.

For individual account:

1. Canadian Citizen: A Canadian citizen of the age of majority under the laws of the province or territory in Canada in which he or she resides or last resided.

Registrant name format requirements

The Registrant's name must be the full legal name of the Canadian Citizen who will hold the domain name registration as the name would appear on a passport, driver's license or other identification document issued by a government.

The name may be followed by a space and "o/a xxxx" where "o/a" stands for "Operating As" and "xxxx" can be any alpha-numeric string designated by the applicant and subject to applicable rules and length restrictions (e.g. "John Doe o/a Doe Consulting Group"). The name may also be followed by a space and a degree granted to the Registrant by a recognized degree granting institution or a recognized professional designation which the Registrant has the right to use (i.e. PhD, MD, and DDS.)

Full legal names of individuals may only consist of alphabetic characters and the special characters: single quote mark ('), hyphen (-), period (.).

2. Canadian Permanent Resident: A permanent resident as defined in the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act (Canada) S.C. 2001, c.27, as amended from time to time, who is "ordinarily resident" (as defined below) in Canada and of the age of majority under the laws of the province or territory in Canada in which he or she resides or last resided. "Ordinarily resident in Canada" means an individual who resides in Canada for more than 183 days in the twelve month period immediately preceding the date of the applicable request for registration of the .ca domain name or sub-domain name and in each twelve month period thereafter for the duration of the domain name registration.

Registrant name format requirements

The Registrant's name must be the full legal name of the Permanent Resident who will hold the domain name registration as the name would appear on a driver's license or other identification document issued by a government.

The full legal name may be followed by a space and "o/a xxxx" where "o/a" stands for "Operating As" and "xxxx" can be any alpha-numeric string designated by the applicant and subject to applicable rules and length restrictions (e.g. "John Doe o/a Doe Consulting Group"). The name may also be followed by a space and a degree granted to the Registrant by a recognized degree granting institution or a recognized professional designation which the Registrant has the right to use (i.e. PhD, MD, and DDS.)

Full legal names of individuals may only consist of alphabetic characters and the special characters: single quote mark ('), hyphen (-), period (.).
