Introduction

The Story

You're out roaming the galaxy looking for adventure and treasure when you discover unique geometric crystals called icosahedrons scattered throughout an unusual part of the universe. You find that when you collect enough of them, a worm hole appears. A worm hole that is a gateway to another dimension in time and space. You think, "This is great!"

There's only one problem. Someone else has discovered the crystals as well.

So the race is on to collect crystals, fend off your adversary's attacks and be the first to warp to the next dimension without blowing up.

Background

A long time ago there was an arcade game that was just two ships and more importantly two people, playing against each other, instead of one person playing against a cold calculating computer. The players could experiment with the way the ships flew. The ships could sustain partial damage. It was a lot of fun!

Space Joust recaptures the fun of that old arcade game and more. You can change each ship's flight characteristics. And you get to play the game with a friend.

Shareware

Space Joust is shareware. If you like it, you should register it by clicking the "Register" button on the main screen. You'll find easy instructions on how register Space Joust.

You'll receive your official registration code that will eliminate the game limits.

Since Mind-ware now accepts Master Card and VISA you can register electronically if you have access to an online service such as America Online or the InterNet.

Note To Registered Users

If you are already a registered user of Space Joust version 1.1 or less, you may upgrade by clicking the "This is an upgrade" button on the registration screen.

Minor upgrades for Space Joust are of course free. But because version 2.0 is all new, we need to ask for the small upgrade fee of $5. Thanks for your support! Be sure to enter your current registration code in the registration screen.
