

ell I decided only the people that help me out, if i tried to list all the people i knew, i would probably forget about half. But these are the people who stick out in my mind:

ToeDEEdoe-the only person who has stuck with my hell since v1.0, testing and promoting it!

MacDad-helped me a whole lot with macros, its to bad he's not around anymore

ErrorRed-friend and also competition hell maker guy=)

Chop-made these docs into an app so no one could change them!

jk903/dippman-Saved my ass by testing my hell at the last second!

Well, thats about it. I have to thank the "little" people along the way who helped me out. Sorry i couldn't include all of you, but thats just the way things go. Will I release a 3.5? I don't know, if the demand for one is strong then i will. Thinking about making a hell? Go ahead and do it, who gives a fuck about what people say. Well this should wrap this episode of Rza Hell up : ) Please send questions and comments, I love getting mail. Also please talk to me before you copy my macros, i'll let you do it if you talk to me first....if you don't...hehe...then you will recieve the consequences! See ya around
