

Simple ways to screw over a member or get them cancelled by TOSGod

These methods are of December 1995, so some of them might not work anymore.

* The Password Method

Go to keyword (GuidePager) and report the member for trying to steal your password. I have written some sample text, in case you don't know what to say. Remember, always modify this text before sending it, because TOS will figure it out if 10,000 people send the same damn report. Remember, this is 100x more effective if you have more than one person do it.

* Sample Report 1

<HisName>: Hello, I am from the America Online staff. My name is Jason Donnaly. I work in accounting, and have detected a serious problem in your account record. It is currently responsible for corrupting our database. We need to verify your user information. Please click Respond and type your screen name and password, then click Send.

* Sample Report 2

<HisName>: Hello, your account record is damaged. We will have to remove you from the online community unless you can supply your name and password. Please click respond and send your password. Thank you, The Online Billing Department. (Rep#923)

These two reports will get them every time.

* The Commercial Software Method

Apologize to this person. Then, ask them if they can upload something small for you. Make sure this is commercial software. Something such as Norton. Tell them that your HD just crashed and you are using a friends machine. When they send you the software, forward it to TOSEmail1, saying that they would not stop pestering you and sending you stuff. He's gone.

* The Nasty E-Mail Method

If this person is not quite as lame as you thought, and they have Hell software, IM bomb them. Keep doing it until they ignore you. Then, when they unignore, send more. Piss them off. Tell them that they don't have the balls to mailbomb you and they are a total loser. Use the worst words you can come up with. Then, forward the mailbomb text to TOSEmail1, saying he sent to over 100 of them, and he won't stop. If he does mailbomb you, this will work.

There might be other methods. If there are, please send them off to me, and they will be added in this text. Then, you will be added to the credits.
