

This script will try to sign on to AOL with a chosen screen name by trying each password in a previously created list.

The list must be created using the Scriptable Text editor and saved as "Try List". The first line in the list must be the screen name, subsequent lines must be possible passwords, the final line must be "**end**". On successful registration the script logs the details to a file and quits.

If it can't connect to AOL this script will try to log this event and quit, but may get stranded until AOL's dialog boxes are manually "OK"ed.
