

Default Settings

As a minimum, you probably want to set up the Default Settings. These will be used whenever a new Document or Helper is created.

To check out the Default Settings, make sure you have an empty window in the foreground and select "Session Settings..." from the "Edit" menu. This will open the Session Settings Dialog Box. Everything you can set up in a document is set up from this dialog box.

If this is the first time you've opened this dialog box, then you will notice that the "Default" check box is checked. This means that these settings will become the Default Settings when you click "OK".
