

Using Scripts

Black Night is Scriptable, Recordable and Attachable. And, according to Michael Spindler (President & CEO Apple Computer, Inc.), that's the highest level of support for Apple's Open Scripting Architecture (OSA).

Scriptable

You can script just about every single operation that Black Night can execute. And you don't have to learn a complex new language to achieve this; Black Night uses the regular AppleEvent Suites the way they were designed to be used.

Recordable

I follow a simple rule, if you can script it, then you can record it as well.

Attachable

You can launch scripts directly from the script menu. Very simple, no fuss, and repeatable results every time.
