

MacMan's Email Warfare Tips

No matter what your battle plan is for your next email war. There's always room for improvement. Whether you like to subscribe people to hundreds of mailing lists, or just send a lot of carbon copys of messages to them. You can multiply the messages by 15! Possibly more.

How? By using free email forwarding places on the net.

In this example I'll use Post1 and Bigfoot. Although I'm sure there are lots of other free email forwarding places out there. If you know any tell me about 'em! I need some messages for my 'Letters' page.

Bigfoot forwards email to up 5 email addresses!

Post1 forwards email to up to 3 email addresses. Possibly more, they mentioned something about making it 5.

Hotmail, won't forward messages but it's fun to give your target your hotmail address. So you can hear how pissed off they are!

1. Get a FREE email address at Hotmail <www.hotmail.com>. If use your own email address to join up and forget to change the place the mail gets forwarded to you will be bombing yourself (Not recomended)!

2. Get a FREE email address at Bigfoot <www.bigfoot.com>.

3. Go to Post1 <www.post1.com> and help yourself to 5 FREE email addresses.

4. Go back to Bigfoot, and change your preferences so that mail gets forwarded to the five Post1 addresses.

5. However you fight your email wars, make sure you bomb your new Bigfoot address. The jerk who pissed you off will now get 15 times the punnishment!

If you want to see if your enemy is really getting bombed, or if they've unsubscribed to all the list or whatever. Make one of your post1 addresses forward a message to you.

More ideas.

If you're sending the messages to the person yourself, make your return email address your Bigfoot address. Any flames sent to you will go back to your enemy.

The infinite loop theory.

If you can find a place that will forward email to Bigfoot, and that bigfoot will forward mail to. You might be able to create a never ending assault of messages! Here's the plan.

1. Get accounts at Bigfoot and the other place you find.

BTW, if you do find someplace please tell me where.

2. Make them forward mail to eachother.

3. Make the bigfoot address forward four messages to your enemy. And one to one of your Hotmail addresses (To see if it still works a month later)

Note: Post1 won't forward email to Bigfoot so don't bother trying to.

Some tips.

1. An anonymous email bomber is a safe one. Once they get ahold of your IP address you're doomed!

2. A lot of places automatically respond to your email messages saying they got your message, if you say your return address is the one in your infinite mailbomb loop, your enemy will never know who you are.

3. Never subscribe someone to the Evangelist. That list is too good to be wasted on idiots!

That's all for this month! I'll think of something for next month.
