Centre for Bioscience Resource Pack for New Lecturers

The Centre for Bioscience Resource Pack New Lecturers is intended to provide subject-specific material to complement the generic information for delivered in staff development courses, and in particular, post graduate certificate courses. As well as highlighting the support available to individuals from the Centre for Bioscience, the pack also lists publications, journals and websites specific to bioscience education. A substantial proportion of the material is concerned with laboratory and fieldwork as we feel that these are the areas where bioscience education differs most from other subjects.

Ordering Packs: We will send you as many packs for distribution as you would like - free of charge. To guarantee delivery by early September please return by 30th August 2006.
