

DEUTSCHLAND UBER ALLES?

by David Ben-Ariel

GERMANY OVER ALL, after all? Will Germany again terrorize the world community? Germans are gaining control of all of Europe while the American and British peoples continue their nosedive to oblivion.

Historian Walter Russel Mead states that "the Germans are back and ready to lead. There is no doubt that an awesome new European superpower is in the formative stage, forming around a reunified and confident Germany."

Ignorant America basks in its temporary role as the only superpower left, blind to the dark shadows crossing over the European continent as the German eagle ascends again. The plain truth is that Germany poses a clear and present danger to world order. Is that so far-fetched? Didn't Germany start WWI and WWII? Weren't they our sworn enemy just a generation ago? Aren't they a nation in denial, never truly repenting of their wickedness, just laying low and keeping quiet until the time is ripe for their revival? And isn't Germany the darling of the Vatican, prepared to push for Rome's imperial restoration? The "new Europe" is actually nothing less than a remodeled "Holy Roman Empire" in the making! Germany and the Vatican are the main instigators behind European integration.

"This Germany," writes A.M. Rosenthal in The New York Times, "is destined to be the most powerful nation on earth." Wouldn't such raw power be abused? Doesn't the Bible and history warn us to beware the Beast!? Why are we helping to create such a Frankenstein monster? And why would the United States allow Germany to establish military bases in Alamogordo, New Mexico? Something the Pentagon admits is a first in American history. Haven't we heard about the Trojan Horse? Will betrayed Americans cry: "Remember the Alamo"?

As duly noted in Beyond Babylon: Europe's Rise and Fall (www.provide.net/~tnm/bb.htm), "GERMANY is clearly the HEAD of this emerging EUROSTATE." Meanwhile, legitimate concerns and questions remain. Which way will Germany lead their European body? And how soon before they'll throw their weight around the rest of the world?
