

Slowing Text Interpretation

Article Created: 30 July 1993

TOPIC-----

My Newton begins interpreting what I have written while I'm still writing. Is there a way to slow this feature down so I can finish a thought before Newton starts converting it to text?

DISCUSSION-----

If Newton is interpreting your handwriting too quickly, here's how to slow it down:

- 1) Tap the Extras button, then tap Prefs.
 - 2) Tap Handwriting Styles in the Preferences Menu.
 - 3) Select one of two ways to slow down handwriting interpretation. Either:
 - Slide the diamond on the second gauge to the left toward "slowly, more accurately."
- or
- Slide the diamond on the third gauge to the right toward "after a delay."

The longer you give Newton to think about what you write, the more accurate its interpretation will be.

Copyright 1993, Apple Computer, Inc.

Posted to:
World of Newton
Support Information
Support Tips
September 2, 1993