

Classic networking on this system includes the Network control panel and the associated AppleTalk drivers. Classic networking can provide this system with network printing and file sharing over LocalTalk networks. If you want to use ethernet connectivity, or PCI or PC Card network card expansion, or TCP/IP protocols you should switch to use Open Transport networking. At least 8 MB or more of total system memory is required for Open Transport.