Hints above and beyond...

In the rabbit Maze game, the goal is to find the rabbit treasure at the center of the maze. Of course, rabbit treasure may not be what we (people) consider treasure.

There is a moral, or hidden message to the Pearl. Even though the woman never did find her promised "magic" pearl, she received all the "treasures" that the pearl was to bring her in its search. If she would have found it, then the pearl may not have been able to "magically" supply her with those same "treasures".
