WELCOME TO CLICKART!
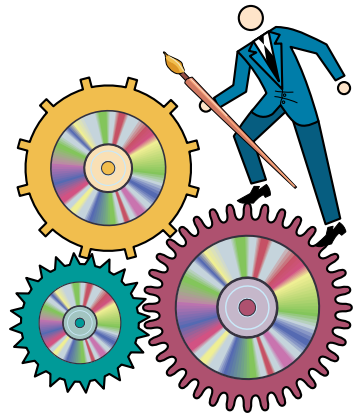

Hi. We're ClickArt® And we're pretty excited about the things we're doing these days.

As you may already know, we are in the business of creating software. And what a great business to be in! Luckily, we've attracted some of the best and brightest right here to our own home in Silicon Valley, and we think our software shows it.

We're made up of a team of highly-skilled, yet wild and wacky people who think that coming to work each day is something to look forward to. We want to do well at our jobs. We like to have fun. And we don't like to waste money.

But maybe we're a little different, because we've been living with computers–and designing personal computer software–for over a decade now, and we've seen what a positive impact computers can have, if only someone creates great software for them. And, it is being that someone that brought us all to ClickArt.

Our Mission

To be even more specific, our mission is to create software that does things you really want to do, that is priced right, and that is easy to use. It's that simple.

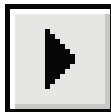

Using the ClickArt Guide is easy!

Just click one of the 5 easy-to-use buttons!

1 To use the Table of Contents, click on the "Bookmarks" button in the above menu.

2 To go to the next page, click on the "Next" arrow.

3 To return to the page you last viewed, click on the "Go Back" arrow.

To learn more about the Acrobat™ Reader features, go to the Help menu and select Acrobat Reader Help.

? 4 To find out how to reach us and to receive free technical support, click the question icon on any page.

5 To get back to the Main Menu, click the home icon on any page.

We also know that it is more than whizzy technology that makes great software great. You have to be able to find it, to afford it, and to use it easily. We place an emphasis on customer service, so if you do have a problem, call us and some friendly person will do his or her best to get you back on the road again. We also offer our products on a money-back guarantee, something that is unfortunately rather unusual in the software industry. But, most important, we try to design our software so that it not only does what you need it to do, but it does it in the way you think it should. Much as we'd like to talk to you, our goal is to make it unnecessary for you to have to call us for technical support.

Don't Be a Stranger!

So, now that you know us, we hope you'll let us know what you think of our software. And, if you'd like to find out more about us than what's here, please contact us and we'll be happy to tell you more...we're only a phone call, fax (or an email!) away.

ClickArt exists for a simple reason:
We want to improve your image.

After all, we live in a visual society—yet, most of us don't have the time or talent to create our own art. So, that's where our ClickArt professionally-drawn electronic image portfolios come in. We have images right for every statement, every occasion, and we make them easy for you to use and economical for you to own.

Our ClickArt line, with over 40 titles, is the leading brand of high quality ready-to-use electronic art available today. Our wide variety of portfolios, which span from serious business illustrations to humorous cartoons, can be used by anyone, from first-time computer users to professional designers.

We design ClickArt to work with all leading word processing, desktop publishing, paint, draw and works applications.

And, since our development team is constantly creating or acquiring new art, cartoons and design packages, there's always a new way to express yourself with ClickArt.

Know Your Software Rights

Your complete license agreement is located in the "License Agreement" section of this electronic document, which can be accessed through the Main Menu. T/Maker strongly suggests you read it to fully understand your ownership rights. Two key points in your license agreement are:

1. T/Maker Company gives you permission to copy and modify ClickArt images only for your own "internal use". (See the license agreement for a complete definition of "internal use").
2. T/Maker Company grants you this license for only a single computer or CPU (central processing unit).

Your license agreement also has information about the use of trademarks and disk warranties. If you have any questions on your license agreement, feel free to contact T/Maker Company.

Site License Offer

If you would like to share ClickArt images with others, either at home or in the office, you can purchase additional copies or a site license from T/Maker. A site license allows you to share the ClickArt images with a limited group of users (at a reasonable extra cost). For more information on acquiring a site license, please call us about our Network or Site License programs at 415/962-0195.

Business/Education License "5" and "10"

If you just purchased a single copy of ClickArt and would like an extended license for up to 5, or up to 10 users, T/Maker will allow you to deduct the amount of your recent purchase from the purchase of the "5" and "10" license. You will be required to show the amount paid and proof of purchase. Call 800/395-0195 today, mention your special upgrade number TM 1107.
