

Version 2.0

What is DeskTools ?

DeskTools is a PIM, a Personal Information Manager. It has similar features as the commercial packages but with a much smaller price. DeskTools offers you the following features:

-

On-line help

-

Telephone directory lists

-

Reminder lists with alarms

-

Glossary lists

-

Unlimited number of addresses

-

3 phone numbers per address

-

Daily, weekly, monthly and yearly calendars

-

Maintain multiple calendars

-

Print mailing labels

-

Print business envelopes

-

Print telephone lists
in one or two columns

-

Print rolodex cards

-

Print diskettes labels (3.5" only)

-

Print calendars in daily, weekly, monthly and yearly formats

-

Sort telephone lists by name, last name and company name

-

Sort glossary lists by title and by date

-

Recurring events in calendars

-

To do list

-

Prioritize the To do list

-

Small text editor (limit of 32K per document)

-

Import/export files from/to text and from/to database format

-

Telephone lists can be searched by first name, last name, company or address

-

Each search creates a sublist that can be saved, printed or kept in memory

-

Glossary lists are ideal to store chunk of text (2k per record) to store diskette information, articles reviews, famous quotes, etc.

-

Merge existing telephone lists and glossary lists

Miscellaneous Points:

- This software should run on any Mac (Plus and above) using system 6.0 or higher. It understands the basic four Apple events and it is 32 bit clean.

Balloon help exists for all menu items, windows and dialog items.

How to register:

- This software is shareware with a fee of $25. Payable with a check or money order to:

GMIS Associates

504 Norcross Way

Silver Spring, MD 20904

If you have this software in your computer for more than 15 days, please register and support the shareware concept.

Registration gives you a free copy of the software and all new releases. It will keep you informed of bug fixes and most importantly you will get a copy of the software without the annoying alert (see below) that occasionally reminds you that you have not registered. Registration will give you technical support as well as the complete users manual.

Once you have registered, you will receive via e-mail or by mail your name and a code. Start DeskTools, click on either one of the icons in the previous window and the following dialog box will pop up:

Type the name and the code exactly as it was given to you, this is case sensitive. Once this is done, quit Desktools and start over again. This time the nasty notice will not show up anymore. If this fails, contact us to get some assistance.

How to get in touch with us:

We are in America Online and on the Internet. You can also send us mail to the address above. Send your messages to:

Internet:
gmis@aol.com

AOL:

gmis

Distribution and other legal stuff:

- Any person or persons wishing to redistribute this program for a profit MUST gain written permission from GMIS Associates, beforehand.
- GMIS Associates takes no liability for any consequential incidental, or indirect damages (including damages for loss of business profits, loss of business information, and the like).
- Redistributed copies of this program must be distributed with all files, including this one.