PEGASUS MAIL   FREEWARE

Pegasus Mail is an electronic mail system for use with Novell NetWare (versions 2.15A and later), and on standalone systems using the WINSOCK TCP/IP interface. It is a full-fledged mailer, one of its more unusual characteristics being that it is freeware - not shareware, but "free". You can use it without charge, restriction or obligation on as many servers and machines as you wish.

One of the most remarkable things about Pegasus Mail is the fact that it is absolutely FREE. But if you are using Pegasus Mail, as an organization or as an individual, and if you are satisfied with its performance and features, it would be a very clever decision to order one of the (sets of) manuals. That would benefit you and/or your organization in two ways: you receive those excellent printed manuals and you also invest in the current and future support of the programs and their development.
