

Sign conventions

When you are plotting a graph or solving a problem for motion in a straight line, it is normal to label one direction as 'positive' and the opposite direction as 'negative'. This is called sign convention. You should always state your sign convention at the start of any piece of work and stick to it throughout.