

Equal and opposite

Forces are always produced by an interaction such as attraction or repulsion, between two things. Newton's third law explains how the forces on two interacting objects are related to each other.

Law 3

When an object applies a force to a second object, the second object always applies an equal and opposite force to the first object. Action and reaction are equal and opposite.