

Finding the centre of gravity

You can find the centre of gravity of a uniform object such as a ruler by balancing it on your finger. The object will only balance when its centre of gravity is directly over the pivot (in this case, your finger).