

Equilibrium

There are three types of equilibrium for an object resting on a surface.

A pyramid resting on its base is in stable equilibrium. When you tilt the pyramid, its centre of gravity rises. When you let go, the pyramid falls back to its equilibrium position.