

GANGLAND DETECTIVE STORIES lasted for at least three issues, from November 1939 to September 1940, though it is possible a fourth issue, dated November 1940, was also published. The November 1939 issue was labeled volume 2, number 1, as the title was a change from TEN STORY GANG, which ran from August 1938 to March 1939 (v.1 #4). None of the authors who appeared in GANGLAND DETECTIVE STORIES are of much note. The cover artist for the September 1940 issue, Allen Anderson, was a prolific contributor to both the pulps and comics published by Fiction House, including many covers for PLANET STORIES.