

The November 1937 issue of PRIVATE DETECTIVE STORIES features "Marked In Indigo" by Robert Garron, who was a frequent contributor to PRIVATE DETECTIVE STORIES and the other spicy pulps. Garron was a pen-name for Howard Wandrei, brother of Donald Wandrei. Fedogan & Bremer recently released TIME BURIAL, a collection of Howard Wandrei's pulp fiction, including many of his spicy tales. Of additional interest to readers of the spicy pulps is that the spicy stories reprinted in TIME BURIAL are taken from Wandrei's original manuscripts, which vary from--and are often "spicier" than--the edited, published versions.
