

While E. Hoffmann Price grabbed the cover, Robert Leslie Bellem was not to be outdone in the December 1936 issue of SPICY DETECTIVE STORIES, appearing not once, not twice, but three times in its pages. "Crooner's Caress" appeared under his own name, while "Lam Mister" bore his familiar Jerome Severs Perry byline. His third tale, "Dead Man's Name", appeared under his Harley L. Court pseudonym.