

As usual, the September 1936 issue of SPICY MYSTERY STORIES featured a plethora of pseudonyms on its contents page. Victor Rousseau was there twice, once as Lew Merrill and once as Clive Trent, while E. Hoffmann Price appeared as Hamlin Daly (in addition to having a story under his own name) and Hugh Cave showed up as Justin Case. In a bit of a rarity, Robert Leslie Bellem seems to have only one story in the issue.